RUGGLES CAMPMEETING

Notes of Interest Gathered at These Beautiful Grounds

RUGGLES CAMPGROUNDS, August 1st, 1910.
Special Correspondence Public Ledger.

After a rather strenuous Sabbath, the campers have given themselves up to recreation for the most part of today. Some have spent the day walking about the country. One party, under the leadership of Winn P. Bowman, walked all the way to Kirk's Springs. They were somewhat tired tonight, too. Another party was out hunting Indian relics—it wouldn't be hard to guess who headed this party.

While many left the grounds we who stayed enjoyed some excellent services. Rev. John Bestz of West Covington preached at the morning service; Rev. Daniel Wendell Brown conducted the Bible study in the afternoon.

This evening Dr. Blodgett preached an eloquent and impressive sermon on the "Doctrine of Future Punishment." Rev. Ragan sang at the close of the sermon.

The following Ministers arrived in camp this evening: Revs. H. C. Northcutt, "Father of the Campmeeting," G. N. Jolly, D. D. of Covington, O. J. Carder of Augusta, H. W. Buxton of Dayton, G. W. Howes of Olive Hill, E. H. Edwards of Russell.

Mr. Coburn of Olive Hill is attending Campmeeting, having accompanied his Pastor, the Rev. G. W. Howes.

An auto party composed of Judge Howard McCartney, Messrs. Paul Heflin, Marvin McIntire and Mr. Donahue of Flemingsburg were calling on some of our campers today.

The society event of the day was the 6 o'clock dinner given by Mrs. George Kelly in honor of Mr. John R. Brodt's untimely birthday. The following guests were invited: Mr. and Mrs. John R. Brodt and daughter, Miss Anna, Mr. and Mrs. John Crane and daughter, Miss Myrtle, and Rev. F. W. Harrop. It was a very delightful affair and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Our only unmarried Preacher has given the signal of distress. There are so many stunningly beautiful girls here that he is completely "up in the air." If some one would kindly donate a bottle of pickles, it would help out matters wonderfully.

In passing around the grounds Sunday evening our attention was attracted by the disappointed countenance of a particular friend of ours. He unfolded to us his troubles. Having come from a distant city, arriving Saturday, he determined to satisfy that longing he had had for weeks for some old time Methodist "yaller-legged chicken." He invested in two or three fine, plump springers and put them in, what he thought, to be a safe place until Sunday morning. On arising, he discovered his "springers" pasturing in front of the cottage. All the family were called into service to corral the chickens. All hands got around them and began closing in. Just about the time they were about to claim the prizes the "yaller-legs" ducked under the cottage and no manner of coaxing or shoeing could induce them to come out, and there they stayed, too, until it was too late to grace the Sunday dinner. Our friend had a very determined look and he was making great preparations for what he was going to do on Monday to those truant chickens.

General Jefferson Davis Bradford, only surviving nephew of Jefferson Davis, died Sunday night in New Orleans.

Receipts of live stock at the Chicago market for the week of July 25th were 66,100 cattle, 87,700 hogs, and 111,900 sheep.

George Irvin of Washington C. H., Ohio, and Miss Lillie McHenry of Manchester were granted marriage license at Covington Monday.

Millers must stop bleaching flour, pending adjudication by the higher Courts, or stand criminal prosecution for each shipment made in interstate commerce, according to a decision reached in Washington at a conference between officials of the Departments of Agriculture and Justice.
